New Ideas, New Leaders!

About CCS Academy

CCS Academy conducts policy training, certificate courses, research internships and outreach programs of the Centre for Civil Society for a diverse audience comprising of students, journalists, development and business professionals, academicians and government officials.

Our work is based on the conviction that persistent and widespread social problems have their root cause in public policies that either interfere with or fail to support the operation of individuals, civil society, community and free market based solutions.

Our Mission: To inspire future leaders and change agents to pursue the vision of a free society by championing a liberal approach to public policy.

Wins

7,700 graduates of our policy training and internship programs

12 independent organisations started by CCS graduates over the past 17 years

Over 350 research papers written by CCS interns

75 graduates and growing in public policy careers around the world

Our Programs

ipolicy

Certificate course on public policy that introduces participants to Comparative Institutional Analysis.

Young Leaders Program

To engage youth with social, economic and political issues through an understanding of public policy within the classical liberal framework that emphasises limited government, rule of law, free trade, and individual rights.

Journalists Program

To equip journalists with objective tools to understand and evaluate policies so as to increase the number and quality of ethical and informed reporting on public policy issues.

Development Leaders

To provide tools that will make them more effective at their work by identifying and evaluating which policies will help or hinder their efforts and formulate and advocate for policies that will complement their organization's vision and goals.

Business Professionals

To develop a greater understanding of the ethical foundations of a market economy and to explore new perspectives and innovative solutions and leverage concepts and tools of sound public policy to make their social change initiatives more impactful.

Government Officials

To help translate policy into practice by offering a step-by step implementation module of policies in education and livelihood sectors.

Our Programs

Freedom Caravan

An internationally recognised month long program that brings young people together to explore ideas about individual liberty and economic prosperity. The program consists of engaging talks, working groups and discussion on a chosen theme in campuses across the country.

Researching Reality Internship

A six week, full time program for students and researchers to provide a greatly valued and needed learning experience in real-life application of social and economic principles and in teaching the skills of research, analysis, writing, and above all critical thinking.

Colloquium

A two-day residential program for in-depth discussion centered on a chosen theme to provide participants an opportunity to reflect on issues of fundamental and enduring importance, share their advanced understandings and to develop innovative ideas and approaches for the advancement of sustainable solutions to policy challenges in India today.

Our Online Platforms

Spontaneousorder.in

CCS's official blog where we present liberal commentary on contemporary issues.

Azadi.me

Azadi.me is a joint initiative of CCS, Atlas Global Initiative and Cato Institute. Keeping in mind the powerful reach of Hindi in India, the portal is intended to be an effective medium to communicate the liberal opinion with the masses, policy makers and media.

Indianliberals.in

An online library of all Indian liberal writings, lectures and other materials in English and regional languages dating from the early 19th century till the present.

Centre for Civil Society advances social change through public policy. Our work in education, livelihood, and policy training promotes choice and accountability across private and public sectors. To translate policy into practice, we engage with policy and opinion leaders through research, pilot projects and advocacy.

Our vision is that each individual leads a life of choice in personal, economic and political spheres and every institution is accountable.
